DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-6 and 12-20 are pending in this communication filed 06/09/05 entered as Request for Reconsideration.
2. The Notice of Appeal and Request for Extension of time filed 03/24/05 has been entered.
3. The Correspondence Address Change filed 02/08/05 has been entered.
4. The IDS received 11/12/03 (the Barry et al reference has been considered) and the non-patent references IDS received 11/12/03 are missing. Applicant is respectfully requested to resubmit the non-patent references with the next communication for consideration.
5. Applicant's request for reconsideration of the finality of the rejection of the last Office action is persuasive and, therefore, the finality of that action is withdrawn in view of a new ground(s) of rejection as set forth here below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

6. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
7. Claims 1, 5, and 6 recite the limitation "a log" in these claims. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Election/Restrictions

8. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-6, drawn to a system for recovering a database table, retrieving a backup copy of a tablespace, and the tablespace access system being operable to restrict access to the tablespace to read-only access, classified in class 707, subclass 202.

- II. Claims 12-20, drawn to a method for receiving a backup copy of a tablespace, reading the log records associated with a first database table, applying the log records to the backup copy, building a new table of data pages for records, and updating the first database table, classified in class 707, subclass 200.

9. Inventions Group Group II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because Group I has a system for recovering a database table, retrieving a backup copy of a tablespace, and the tablespace access system being operable to restrict access to the tablespace to read-only access. The subcombination has separate utility such as a method for receiving a backup copy of a tablespace, reading the log records associated with a first database table, applying the log records to the backup copy, building a new table of data pages for records, and updating the first database table.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II and the search for Group II is not required for Group I, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

If Applicant should elect claims 1, 5, and 6, the Applicant is respectfully requested to amend these claims to overcome the 35 U.S.C 112, second paragraph rejection.
